ATKINSON'S EVENING POST,
AND PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY NEWS.

Vol. XVIII. Philadelphia, September 28, 1839. Whole No. 945.

Laura Learmond and her Niece.

TELLING A FORTUNE:
A LOVE STORY.
BY WILLIAM RUSSELL SMITH.

THE DAUGHTER OF DARIEN.

THE OCTOBER ELECTION

Whig City Ticket.

Committee of Vigilance.
JOHN C. MONTGOMERY,
Chairman.
HENRY S. SPACKMAN,
Secretary.

[Names of Committee]

SELECT COUNCIL.

[Names]

COMMON COUNCIL.

[Names]

Whig City and County Ticket.

CHARLES W. [illegible]—City.

PETER FARRELLY—Prison Liberties.
ALBERT GALLATIN [illegible]—Commissioner of the District.
[illegible]—Treasurer of the District.
SAMUEL V. HAGER—Auditor.
THOMAS CONNELL—City.
[illegible]—Surveyor.
JAMES MANNA—Southwark.
JAMES GREGORY—Southwark.
WILLIAM F. ATTERBURY—City.
JOHN CLAWGES—City.

Whig County Ticket.

Assembly.
Dr. John A. Ellmaker, Thomas G. Smith
[illegible], [illegible]
[illegible], [illegible]
[illegible], [illegible]

Democratic City Ticket.

For Mayor,
JOHN SWARE.
For State Senate,
ANDREW MILLER.
Assembly.

[Names]

SELECT COUNCIL.

[Names]

COMMON COUNCIL.

[Names]

(For the unexpired term of James Rench.)

[Names]

City and County Ticket.

Recorder of Deeds—City.
GEORGE M. DALLAS.
Prison of Wm.
WILLIAM PEIRCE,—Spring Garden.
Treasurer of the Northern Liberties.
SAMUEL HART,—Spring Garden.
Auditor—City and County.
WILLIAM V. PETTIT,—City.
Clerk of the Orphans' Court.
WILLIAM C. KLINE,—Kensington.
Register of Wills—City.
JAMES ENGLE,—Moyamensing.
Clerk of the Quarter Sessions.
ROBERT T. CHRISTY,—City.

SAMUEL HEINTZELMAN,—City.

THOMAS VAUGHAN,—Kensington.

THOMAS J. BESTON,—Blockley.

Democratic County Ticket.

Assembly.
Wealth and [illegible]

[illegible] Franklin Lee,
Abraham Cohen, Joseph Conrad,
Edward J. Passmore, Francis Lee,
William Bowers, [illegible]

Atkinson's Evening Post
Philadelphia Saturday News.

UNDER THE EDITORIAL CHARGE OF
GEORGE H. GRAHAM,
Late Editor and Proprietor of the Saturday Courier.

Letters to be addressed to M. ATKINSON, Publisher.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 26, 1840.

TO CORRESPONDENTS.

The Stanzas to "Rosalie" shall be inserted at an early day. We are always pleased to hear from her.

"Midnight" is an excellent article. If the author would pay rather more attention to his rythm, his poetry would be still better. The article shall appear.

"Man's Love" by "S." and "Death" by "J. E. A." in our next.

"W. S." should write better or cease to write at all.

"R. L." is not past as the following will show:

"I've sworn in my wildest dreams,
When I looked in her face, which with bright-ness beam-ed."

"T. L." writes no better poetry. We can give but one line.

"I never wrote a line before."

If he will take our advice he will never write another. We have sundry articles which do not deserve the room that a notice would require, and we are astonished that any person can sit down coolly to perpetrate such nonsense, and then add to the folly by forwarding it for publication.

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE.

We give to day, the names of the candidates of both parties for the various offices in the gift of the people. We know that the time of high political excitement, but too little attention is paid to the qualifications and virtue of the candidates proposed, and that party prejudices lead men to support the nominees of all hazards. Upon the tickets presented by the two parties are see the names of men who do honor to the parties with which they are connected. On the Whig ticket for the Assembly we see the name of Mr. Lex, a gentleman of rare accomplishments and a liberal patron of the arts, and upon the Democratic, Mr. Joseph C. Neal, the well known author of the "Charcoal Sketches," published weekly, a correct thinker, and a gentleman of vast many resources. As a man who adorns the party to which he is attached. We regret, however, to be obliged in truth to say, that there are some gross blots upon both tickets, and we can see no reason why Gabriel Lex should run for the offices which they aspire to hold. We want men of virtue and intelligence and not politicians. We want men who will legislate for the whole community, and not for a party. We want those examples will inspire correct feeling and correspondig action. We want no agrarian legislators, men who will array the poor against the rich, who trample under foot the home virtues, and throw more and more power upon the ultra democracy, and who encourage legislative men. Our representatives should be men of sterling virtue, and unyielding integrity, whom no bait could seduce from the path of duty, and in whose minds the sacredness of obligations, human and divine, are paramount to considerations of private interest and the petty notoriety gained by the open assertion of infidel principles. Other sins if elected must be watched. We go against all agitators and against any school of politicians who will caution all friends of order and true republicanism against voting for men who make an open boast of such principles.

For the county offices, the best men should be selected, without regard to the ticket upon which their names appear. It is the duty of every voter, whose principles are not circumscribed by party slavery—of such nothing can be expected—either decent or becoming—to examine well the character of the persons selected. Be short, immediate application for admission is [illegible]

There are a variety of opinions as to the qualifications of the several gentlemen proposed as candidates for the Assembly. They have all been kept back of course, as we other candidates, who are not nominated by the party of which we are members, to submit the case, with by whom they would be voted for. The men who are to be voted for by the Whigs, are those who have been nominated by the Whig City Convention, who in their calling upon the people the best under God, to act, in our humble opinion, is only to Philadelphia.

THE MONEY MARKET.

The money market has been but little changed during the week. The accounts from the interior are very bad and the failing but character of many merchants, to depend on the arrival of the steam packet with the news from Europe. Every thing looking forward to the arrival of the Liverpool. It cannot, in our view of the matter, to be the height of folly, to subject the business to the action of this country to the caprices of the stock jobbers on the other side of the Atlantic. We [illegible]

Exchange on London is very dull, and the rates [illegible] 9 at present, a time of [illegible] settlement of notes among the leading banks of the different cities. We are happy to say that the [illegible] regarding the condition of the Bank of the United States things might not be better. A change of [illegible] is decidedly necessary at home, in the state of their affairs, would be equally appropriate at the present crisis.

DELINEATIONS OF [illegible]

"The Casket and Philadelphia Monthly Magazine" for October, has just been issued, and we have received a copy. The publication is edited by Mr. Arthur, a practical writer, to the last, furnished us with his opinion, which we deem far better than our own. It is what he speak "exactly."

"The October number equals, if it does not surpass any of its predecessors. It is adorned by an elegant steel engraving, illustrative of the exquisite verses from the pen of Miss Sinclair. There is also a clever piece of poetry from our old favorite Miss Warrenton, and a contribution from anonymous and acknowledged correspondents. The "Visit to Reading," by Oliver Oldschool, is here in its 12th, and dashed initial with a vein of wit, which makes the subject so delectable. The incident must be known, and Elias Gray's is a most beautiful elucidation. Besides numerous other sketches and tales, there is a well written essay on American Laws and Institutions, by one of the Philadelphia bar. On the whole, this is a fine number. We like especially the notices of the editors in following the example of the best magazines extant, by publishing most of the pieces anonymously. There are too many of our periodicals which placed great reliance in neighborhood puffs, and writers of the Casket know that good articles will find their own way without the adventitious aid."

M.

"A Description of the Separate System of Prison Discipline, from the Message of the Governor of the North American Review." J. Dennet, 18, 120 Chestnut street.

This is an ably written pamphlet of fifty pages, in reply to an article which appeared in the Review, in which the decision of the Eastern Prison was contrasted with that of the Eastern Penitentiary of this State. The Reviewer, who is supposed to be the Secretary of the Boston Prison Discipline Society, is severely rebuked in the Pamphlet before us, and the superior excellence of the Pennsylvania system is ably vindicated.

"Hamilton King, or the Insurgents and the Loyal Volunteers of the Year 1776." By the author of "Tough Yarns," &c. &c. Ends. LEA & BLANCHARD.

The volumes abound in fine passages and stamp the Old Sailor as a close observer of human nature. His descriptions of sea life are the finest. His scraps are at the close. Our life is dull, insipid and unnatural, and wanting in the fire which burns as every page when he pilots us on ocean and sea life. We commend these volumes to notice.

AMUSEMENTS.

Mr. William Keyser announces that his grand concert, vocal and instrumental, will take place at the Grand Saloon of the Philadelphia Hotel, on Monday evening, Sept. 30th, at 8 o'clock. On this occasion, he has been kindly promised the aid of the most distinguished Amateurs and Professors in the instrumental department. Signora Lamberti Ritter, Soprano; Seager, will make her first appearance. The services of Mrs. and Mr. Watson, and of Miss Clarence Wells have been secured.

The Hungarian Singer, at the earnest request of a number of our most respectable citizens, have been engaged at an enormous expense to remain in Philadelphia positively for this night only, on their journey from Baltimore to Boston. An instrumental accompaniment has been adapted to their vocal performances.

Philadelphia Museum, Lecture Room, (Entrance on George street).—Mr. Love, the Polyhymnist, will appear this evening in the Museum Lecture Room, in a new entertainment, on an entirely new construction, entitled Love's London Lecubrations, also in the second part of Maria and Margaret, or, The Convent Betrothed, and, as a third part, Miss Dot's Dilemma, or the Nag's Head on the Heath.

Miss Emmerick Finale, made up all the characters at once: an effect positively never before accomplished by any other Artist in Europe or America. All the characters will be sustained by Mr. Love, without assistance, collusion, confederacy, or accompaniment.

The Chinese Collection.—This rare collection of curiosities is well worth a visit. The lower Saloon of the Museum is elegantly fitted up, and the proprietor's taste is as manifest in the arrangement, as he is the selection of the articles.

WALNUT STREET THEATRE.

Bulwer's new play of Richlieu has kept possession of the Walnut street stage the past week. Mr. Forrest personating the hero. The play is a stage-like piece, full of incident, and the interest is kept up to the close. Forrest does full justice to the character of the old disbanding Prime Minister. It was throughout a fine piece of acting.

At the Chestnut street Theatre the distinguished vocalists Miss Shirreff, Mr. Wilson, &c. have been appearing to the heroes of every evening during the week. Mr. Charles Kean, the tragedian, will shortly his best parts next week.

The comedy Mr. Wilson, also will have taken his benefit at this house, with the opera of the Marriage of Figaro and Command Brig.

Mr. Marcus Mallerville.—On the of the 100,000 trees [illegible] is to be sold by C. J. Wolbert, next Gray's Ferry, on Thursday, were sold previous to the commencement of the sale. Lots of from 2000 and 3000 trees were sold at the public sale, averaging about 34 feet at 17 cents; this not being considered the value of the land, auction were widespread.

A public sale of [illegible] took place on Thursday afternoon, by Samuel Arbuckle, on the farm of Mr. Hall, in the township of Brookland, for 31 cents per tree, including all sizes.

COMMUNICATION.

IMPEDIMENTS OF SPEECH.

Mr. Editor—I feel in duty bound to acknowledge with grateful heart to God, the benefits I have received from Dr. D. F. Newton's system of treatment for the cure of Impediments of Speech. I have been afflicted with a stammering impediment for years, but with Mr. Newton's system, I can now speak with ease and correctness in my family and [illegible]. I have also witnessed the same happy results of many others, who have been under his system with the utmost confidence, and his ability to cure the most inveterate. I recommend who will devote the requisite time and attention to his instructions.

CURTIS CHAMBERLAIN.

Boston, September 15th, 1840.

N. B.—The above institution is now open in this city; (Friends') Temperance Hall, Third and Green streets. At the present term will be short, immediate application for admission is [illegible]

Philadelphia, Sept. 26th, 1840. sep 1—1t*

BARLAS ST. FARSHBROOKE ARRIVED.

The Schools of the Misses [illegible] Chestnut street, on the early days of [illegible] of the kind in the city. They [illegible] arrangement with whom [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

EASTERN.

EASTERN INDIES.

CANTON.

PORTUGAL—SLAVE TRADE.

IMPORTANT FROM THE EAST.

TURKISH EMBASSY.

EPISODE OF THE TIMES.

PHILADELPHIA—PENNSYLVANIA.

NEW YORK.

Suppression of Gamblers.—It appears that the Mayor has determined to put a stop to the much infested business of gambling in Philadelphia. The cutting of a hole in the floor of a gambling house, and the consequent flooding of the premises, has put under the drill to exist any longer. They re-

Rebus Patriae.—It is stated in the Franklin, (La.) Repository, that Mr. SAMUEL RUTHERFURD, of that State, has given, which yielded fifty pounds to the acre, and which, when sold, will bring him in the neighborhood of $10,000. Mr. Rutherford, of Dover, of Philadelphia, obtained five bushels, as the product of five pounds. A good yield, indeed.

NEW YORK.

Emigrants.—The Buffalo Republican of the 19th says, "several hundred Prussian emigrants, on their way to the settlement of Mr. Ernst, on the Genesee river, passed through this city during the week, and continued their journey westward."

Extract of a letter, dated New York, Sept. 22. "The Great Western arrived at Bristol on Tuesday afternoon, carrying out forty-three passengers, 6 tons of freight, and one bushel of letters.

The amount of specie gone by this vessel is, I suppose, about $150,000; and when the large amount in bills, U. S. Bank stock, &c. which has been sent out during the week, is added to this, it will be seen that the exchange market has been extremely heavy one. Exchange on London is now quoted at 9 per cent. premium, and very few at 10 a 10½ per cent. premium, and Messrs. Baring, Ward & King, sold all their bills at 10½ per cent.

Bristol, Penn.—Where all kinds of business are dull in New York? Read the following extract from the press business down in the City of Brotherly Love in New York, during the last week:

Assessment of what sudes 91; white females 47; black males 90; black females 18. Total 182.

Southwark.—White males 94; white females 60; black males 17; black females 3. Total 141.

Northern Liberties.—White males 91; white females 67; black males 191; black females 11. Total 144.

The life boat of the Roxbury India Rubber Company was tested yesterday, in the bay opposite the Battery. On the occasion of the test the buoyant fully proved its fitness for the purposes for which it was constructed. It bore the weight of fifty soldiers and a six pound field piece with two men, while the bring of the gun had no perceptible effect upon the float. Another trial of the boat's qualities is to be made at the same place.—N. Y. Pat.

The Auburn (N. Y.) Journal speaks highly of the ceremony of Mr. J. H. Hancock of that city. It has 100,000 worms at work, all spinning away like mad.

Bloody Encounter and a Bloody Execution.—A desperate affair took place on the 14th ult. between two of the boats, one of each of the companies employed in the Erie canal, in the vicinity of Lockport. On their arrival at that place, a dispute arose between the captains, which resulted in a challenge to fight a duel with rifles, at 40 paces distance. The parties met, and both fired, when Captain Hall fell dead, shot through the heart. His antagonist, Captain Hill, was arrested, tried, convicted of murder in the first degree, and executed on the 16th of October appointed for his execution.

SOUTHERN.

Alabama Factory.—The Cahaba Manufacturing Company have commenced the erection of a factory on the bank of the river, at Centreville, Bibb county, Alabama, which will be 100 feet long by 40 feet wide, and three stories high, with 2000 spindles of water power sufficient to drive 3000 spindles. The machinery is now being put in motion, and the factory will be in full operation in a few days. The cotton raised in the neighborhood is of the finest quality, and the machinery is of the most improved kind.

Horrible Robbery.—A man named Thomas F. Whiting was committed to the jail of Hinds county, City Tavern a portion of the time. He was arrested on certain charges of the most horrible character, and was in custody of a police officer, but escaped.

Mississippi Governors.—The Charlestonian (Va.) Advocate says that Governor Tucker, of Mississippi, has issued a proclamation for the election of a successor to Governor Brown, whose term of office will expire on the 1st of January next. Governor Tucker is a resident of Jackson, the capital of the State, and is the first man who has ever been elected Governor of Mississippi who was not a resident of the State at the time of his election. Governor Brown is a native of Georgia, but emigrated to Mississippi when a young man, and has resided there for many years.

Another Lunatic Escaped.—Appeal T., a native of Ireland, has taken place in Clay county, Ky., in which a man named Wm. Hunt was killed by Appeal T. Appeal T. is said to be insane.

PORTUGAL—SLAVE TRADE.

IMPORTANT FROM THE EAST.

TURKISH EMBASSY.

Indian Payment.—The Fort (Ill.) Gazette of the 7th instant says, that $50,000 of Government funds passed through that place a few days since, en route for Chicago, for the Indian payment ground, to be immediately distributed among the Pottawatamies.

Illness.—The Illinois board of public works, after two or three meetings, has come to a determination to suspend all work on the public improvements during the present year, and open re-bid for the purpose of ascertaining what can be done to keep the improvements in progress with the least money practicable, until such time as they can be completed by the contractors. The board has petitioned for their prosecution, and the legislature has refused to grant it. The board has dismissed all the assistant engineers and engineers in the smallest possible number to keep the unfinished works in order, and to do the least amount of work possible, and expend the least amount of money possible, until the legislature shall relieve them.

Wheat Crop of Michigan.—The wheat crop of Michigan this year is estimated at 15,000,000 bushels, of which 200,000, it is said, may be consumed in the State, leaving 14,800,000 for exportation. The value of the Free Press, who has taken much pains to ascertain the facts, says that the quantity required for seed will be about 3,000,000 bushels, which, added to the other portion of the crop consumed in the State, will leave 11,800,000 bushels for exportation. This will bring into market, at 75 cents per bushel, $8,850,000. Not only farmers, but all classes of business men, are benefitted by the abundant harvest. Speculators, have raised their 60, 80, and in many instances, over 100 acres of wheat, and have put in their Corn, oats, barley, in buck-wheat, and potatoes, have been raised in small quantities.

A Lesson.—The man who was shot at St. Louis while trying to break into the house of Mr. Henderson, is the same who, some two months since, was released from the penitentiary by the pardoning power of the State. He was let out on the petition of a number of persons, who, it is said, thought that turns out probably to be the case, he will not further disgrace the community. Many of this city (once a years of great promise, who have got into the penitentiary, are greatly in need of a small sum that was due to them.

The Death of Col. Pinckard.—Colonel Pinckard, suddenly, yesterday morning at the Block-House, on the Island of the beach. As near as can be death, he was walking about as usual, and had given one of the resident physicians a call to see him. For the past year, the name of Colonel Pinckard was in the mouths of the residents of Norfolk and Portsmouth, from the fact that he became so familiar as a homeless wanderer, and was frequently seen in the streets of Norfolk, and at the Navy Yard. He was also at the Alms House, he named himself entirely AWAY, but now alas! he is gone, and has left us the melancholy himself.—Herald.

Suppression of Gamblers.—It appears that the Mayor has determined to put a stop to the much infested business of gambling in Philadelphia. The cutting of a hole in the floor of a gambling house, and the consequent flooding of the premises, has put under the drill to exist any longer. They re-

Rebus Patriae.—It is stated in the Franklin, (La.) Repository, that Mr. SAMUEL RUTHERFURD, of that State, has given, which yielded fifty pounds to the acre, and which, when sold, will bring him in the neighborhood of $10,000. Mr. Rutherford, of Dover, of Philadelphia, obtained five bushels, as the product of five pounds. A good yield, indeed.

NEW YORK.

Emigrants.—The Buffalo Republican of the 19th says, "several hundred Prussian emigrants, on their way to the settlement of Mr. Ernst, on the Genesee river, passed through this city during the week, and continued their journey westward."

Extract of a letter, dated New York, Sept. 22. "The Great Western arrived at Bristol on Tuesday afternoon, carrying out forty-three passengers, 6 tons of freight, and one bushel of letters.

The amount of specie gone by this vessel is, I suppose, about $150,000; and when the large amount in bills, U. S. Bank stock, &c. which has been sent out during the week, is added to this, it will be seen that the exchange market has been extremely heavy one. Exchange on London is now quoted at 9 per cent. premium, and very few at 10 a 10½ per cent. premium, and Messrs. Baring, Ward & King, sold all their bills at 10½ per cent.

Bristol, Penn.—Where all kinds of business are dull in New York? Read the following extract from the press business down in the City of Brotherly Love in New York, during the last week:

Assessment of what sudes 91; white females 47; black males 90; black females 18. Total 182.

Southwark.—White males 94; white females 60; black males 17; black females 3. Total 141.

Northern Liberties.—White males 91; white females 67; black males 191; black females 11. Total 144.

The life boat of the Roxbury India Rubber Company was tested yesterday, in the bay opposite the Battery. On the occasion of the test the buoyant fully proved its fitness for the purposes for which it was constructed. It bore the weight of fifty soldiers and a six pound field piece with two men, while the bring of the gun had no perceptible effect upon the float. Another trial of the boat's qualities is to be made at the same place.—N. Y. Pat.

The Auburn (N. Y.) Journal speaks highly of the ceremony of Mr. J. H. Hancock of that city. It has 100,000 worms at work, all spinning away like mad.

Bloody Encounter and a Bloody Execution.—A desperate affair took place on the 14th ult. between two of the boats, one of each of the companies employed in the Erie canal, in the vicinity of Lockport. On their arrival at that place, a dispute arose between the captains, which resulted in a challenge to fight a duel with rifles, at 40 paces distance. The parties met, and both fired, when Captain Hall fell dead, shot through the heart. His antagonist, Captain Hill, was arrested, tried, convicted of murder in the first degree, and executed on the 16th of October appointed for his execution.

SOUTHERN.

Alabama Factory.—The Cahaba Manufacturing Company have commenced the erection of a factory on the bank of the river, at Centreville, Bibb county, Alabama, which will be 100 feet long by 40 feet wide, and three stories high, with 2000 spindles of water power sufficient to drive 3000 spindles. The machinery is now being put in motion, and the factory will be in full operation in a few days. The cotton raised in the neighborhood is of the finest quality, and the machinery is of the most improved kind.

Horrible Robbery.—A man named Thomas F. Whiting was committed to the jail of Hinds county, City Tavern a portion of the time. He was arrested on certain charges of the most horrible character, and was in custody of a police officer, but escaped.

Mississippi Governors.—The Charlestonian (Va.) Advocate says that Governor Tucker, of Mississippi, has issued a proclamation for the election of a successor to Governor Brown, whose term of office will expire on the 1st of January next. Governor Tucker is a resident of Jackson, the capital of the State, and is the first man who has ever been elected Governor of Mississippi who was not a resident of the State at the time of his election. Governor Brown is a native of Georgia, but emigrated to Mississippi when a young man, and has resided there for many years.

Another Lunatic Escaped.—Appeal T., a native of Ireland, has taken place in Clay county, Ky., in which a man named Wm. Hunt was killed by Appeal T. Appeal T. is said to be insane.

PORTUGAL—SLAVE TRADE.

IMPORTANT FROM THE EAST.

TURKISH EMBASSY.

Indian Payment.—The Fort (Ill.) Gazette of the 7th instant says, that $50,000 of Government funds passed through that place a few days since, en route for Chicago, for the Indian payment ground, to be immediately distributed among the Pottawatamies.

Illness.—The Illinois board of public works, after two or three meetings, has come to a determination to suspend all work on the public improvements during the present year, and open re-bid for the purpose of ascertaining what can be done to keep the improvements in progress with the least money practicable, until such time as they can be completed by the contractors. The board has petitioned for their prosecution, and the legislature has refused to grant it. The board has dismissed all the assistant engineers and engineers in the smallest possible number to keep the unfinished works in order, and to do the least amount of work possible, and expend the least amount of money possible, until the legislature shall relieve them.

Wheat Crop of Michigan.—The wheat crop of Michigan this year is estimated at 15,000,000 bushels, of which 200,000, it is said, may be consumed in the State, leaving 14,800,000 for exportation. The value of the Free Press, who has taken much pains to ascertain the facts, says that the quantity required for seed will be about 3,000,000 bushels, which, added to the other portion of the crop consumed in the State, will leave 11,800,000 bushels for exportation. This will bring into market, at 75 cents per bushel, $8,850,000. Not only farmers, but all classes of business men, are benefitted by the abundant harvest. Speculators, have raised their 60, 80, and in many instances, over 100 acres of wheat, and have put in their Corn, oats, barley, in buck-wheat, and potatoes, have been raised in small quantities.

A Lesson.—The man who was shot at St. Louis while trying to break into the house of Mr. Henderson, is the same who, some two months since, was released from the penitentiary by the pardoning power of the State. He was let out on the petition of a number of persons who, it is said, thought that turns out probably to be the case, he will not further disgrace the community. Many of this city (once a years of great promise, who have got into the penitentiary, are greatly in need of a small sum that was due to them.

The Death of Col. Pinckard.—Colonel Pinckard, suddenly, yesterday morning at the Block-House, on the Island of the beach. As near as can be death, he was walking about as usual, and had given one of the resident physicians a call to see him. For the past year, the name of Colonel Pinckard was in the mouths of the residents of Norfolk and Portsmouth, from the fact that he became so familiar as a homeless wanderer, and was frequently seen in the streets of Norfolk, and at the Navy Yard. He was also at the Alms House, he named himself entirely AWAY, but now alas! he is gone, and has left us the melancholy himself.—Herald.

Suppression of Gamblers.—It appears that the Mayor has determined to put a stop to the much infested business of gambling in Philadelphia. The cutting of a hole in the floor of a gambling house, and the consequent flooding of the premises, has put under the drill to exist any longer. They re-

Rebus Patriae.—It is stated in the Franklin, (La.) Repository, that Mr. SAMUEL RUTHERFURD, of that State, has given, which yielded fifty pounds to the acre, and which, when sold, will bring him in the neighborhood of $10,000. Mr. Rutherford, of Dover, of Philadelphia, obtained five bushels, as the product of five pounds. A good yield, indeed.

NEW YORK.

Emigrants.—The Buffalo Republican of the 19th says, "several hundred Prussian emigrants, on their way to the settlement of Mr. Ernst, on the Genesee river, passed through this city during the week, and continued their journey westward."

Extract of a letter, dated New York, Sept. 22. "The Great Western arrived at Bristol on Tuesday afternoon, carrying out forty-three passengers, 6 tons of freight, and one bushel of letters.

The amount of specie gone by this vessel is, I suppose, about $150,000; and when the large amount in bills, U. S. Bank stock, &c. which has been sent out during the week, is added to this, it will be seen that the exchange market has been extremely heavy one. Exchange on London is now quoted at 9 per cent. premium, and very few at 10 a 10½ per cent. premium, and Messrs. Baring, Ward & King, sold all their bills at 10½ per cent.

Bristol, Penn.—Where all kinds of business are dull in New York? Read the following extract from the press business down in the City of Brotherly Love in New York, during the last week:

Assessment of what sudes 91; white females 47; black males 90; black females 18. Total 182.

Southwark.—White males 94; white females 60; black males 17; black females 3. Total 141.

Northern Liberties.—White males 91; white females 67; black males 191; black females 11. Total 144.

The life boat of the Roxbury India Rubber Company was tested yesterday, in the bay opposite the Battery. On the occasion of the test the buoyant fully proved its fitness for the purposes for which it was constructed. It bore the weight of fifty soldiers and a six pound field piece with two men, while the bring of the gun had no perceptible effect upon the float. Another trial of the boat's qualities is to be made at the same place.—N. Y. Pat.

The Auburn (N. Y.) Journal speaks highly of the ceremony of Mr. J. H. Hancock of that city. It has 100,000 worms at work, all spinning away like mad.

20,000 MULTICAULIS TREES.

ALMANAC.

MARRIAGES.

DEATHS.

FALL MILLINERY.

FALL BILLINERY.

$3,000 MORUS MULTICAULIS TREES

BLACK LACE VEIL.

VALUABLE FARM AT PUBLIC SALE.

EQUAL FOOTING.

GREAT AUCTION SALE

LAST NOTICE.

FALL FASHIONS.

PHILADELPHIA LIBRARY.

STOP THE RUNAWAY!

THE CASKET

BOARDING HOUSE FOR SALE.

THE SUBSCRIBER HAS

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION.

DR. A. W. CLASS, Physician

PRINCIPAL OFFICE for sale of this medicine is at the Medical Office, No. 19 North EIGHTH Street, Philadelphia, where Dr. Swayne may be consulted. For moral information the Proprietor's name is inscribed on the outside wrapper of each bottle, and his signature on each bottle. Price $1 per bottle or six bottles for $5.

DR. SWAYNE.

RESPECTED FRIEND.—From the very beneficial effects which I have received from the use of the COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY BARK, I consider it my duty willing to testify to the astonishing effect. My stock was that of a common COLD, which began to settle on my lungs, and terminated in a severe attack of inflammation on the above Syrup, I finally gave it a fair trial, and was happy to find that the relief I received was truly astonishing. I am of frugrantic and always with the most beneficial effects. If others would think as I do of the astonishing effects of their COLDS and COUGHS, they would prevent a disease which would be more shocking to be made at the Medical Office, 19 North EIGHTH Street, Philadelphia.

ELWOOD L. POSEY,

S. W. corner of Arch and Fifth streets, Philadelphia.

The above Medicine is for sale at the MEDICAL OFFICE, 19 NORTH EIGHTH Street, Philadelphia, a few doors above the square. For sale in Bridgeton, N. J. by

MAY Brown. sep 16—6t* —eod

MORE PROOFS

OF THE EFFICACY OF DR. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY BARK.

BROWN'S corner of Second street and the Lombard Road, Philadelphia, Sept. 1st, 1838.

DR. SWAYNE—Dear Sir: I have been afflicted with a severe cough for the last two years, which has resisted all the remedies I have used for it, until I commenced taking your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry Bark, which has relieved me in a short time. I have also given it to my children, and found it to be a safe and effectual remedy for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, &c. I am induced to make this statement from a desire to benefit others who may be afflicted with Coughs, Colds, &c. as I believe your Syrup to be the best remedy I have ever used.

Yours, respectfully, JOHN MORRIS.

MORUS MULTICAULIS.

WORMS, WORMS, WORMS.

WASHINGTON L. SIMON,

The Old Established Cheap Book Store Removed.

WANTED IMMEDIATELY,

VALUABLE REAL ESTATE.

PUBLIC SALE.

PUBLIC SALE.

PUBLIC SAL

GOLD PATENT.

FROM THE SMOKING SETTLEMENT.

UMBRELLAS.

DOMESTIC SILK AGENCY.

CLERMONT BOARDING ACADEMY.

TURNIP SEEDS.

NO APOLOGY FOR WIGS.

PLAIN & ORNAMENTAL IRON RAILING.

DAVID SMITH, MERCHANT.

MORUS MULTICAULIS.

SILVER PLATE, SPOON AND FORK.

MORUS MULTICAULIS.

MORUS MULTICAULIS IN OHIO.

MORUS MULTICAULIS IN VIRGINIA.

Vol. XVIII.

THE WIDOW'S HOPE.

BY M. F. COSTER.

Sleep on, my babe, and in thy dr
Thy father's face behold,
That now again may gratify le
From eyes now dark and c
His wonted fond embrace to giv
To smile as once he smiled,
Again let all the father live,
To bless his orphan child.

Thy mother sits these heavy ho
To mourn on off with night
And over Life's quick wizened
To droop with swooning ey
Yet, oh, our waking dreams, lo
Their dearest vision hide,
Or flee, and leave their glory ca
For ever into shade!

And still, the dowing, stricken
In every bleeding string
That grief has snapped or wore Finds yet wherewith to cle
And yet whereon to hold to tak
With strong-t, double grea
Because of joys o held to bend,
Or melt within its clasp.

A blast has proved that as the w
I bound my fair, high tower
Fate Death has laid his trembli O'er now! Eden bower!
And since, my tender orphan lo
Sweet bud of hope, I see
My spoil of life, my future joy,
My all, wrapped up in thee.

I k'er to murmur in the ear
Of Him who will-d the blo
And sent the Kent of Vertors lo
To lay thy father low.
I ask His aid my griefs to bear
To say, "Thy will be done
That Heaven will still in pity s
The widow's only son.

The Princess Nihi

A BRIDAL STORY.

By Miss Pardoe—author of "The Jealous.

It is strange how often events, t and appear redolent of joy or h
the principal actors replete wit and misery—how, what o a pag be hotherly echoed back in bi depths of a bereaved and st garment of greatness must be p ough it should be in the cosom shortly through a long life from the heart; and it is well holiday working crowd, that th of reality is not permitted like (the Egyptian banquets, to take ton; and startle them into a kno gay piece paid for the "funeral f their enjoyment ravel.

Only a few weeks had elapsed si palace had held a general holiday; of been written in characters o
of thousands had collected tog ut family to celebrate the name ho that looked around and obse marriage festivities of the impe at Pesth—the young, the fair, t ers, all assembled from a long line urs in the purple," and on whose ances suffered to rest, and it w lishness of her beauty; whe could ould the feelings of awards, the
ments and the lavish conservatori
ich surrounded, that the adm
ensemble was offered up was
ered at the altar on which it h
That the roses of the bridal w
leaf by leaf, withered by the b
her fastened! and that the ore's holiday was seated heart-
ering in her latticed apartm
tears over her compulsory acce
and yet than it was: ever I say
or reached me, that had the P
ances suffered to rest, and it w
lishness of her beauty; whe could
ould the feelings of awards, the
ments and the lavish conservatori
ich surrounded, that the adm
ensemble was offered up was
ered at the altar on which it h
That the roses of the bridal w
leaf by leaf, withered by the b
her fastened! and that the
ore's holiday was seated heart-
ering in her latticed apartm
tears over her compulsory acce
and yet than it was: ever I say
or reached me, that had the P
without ventaring to aspire would have made another sele wondering only that she was s getting that she was also a w ed not at once the arrow had been d the wound was mortal!

Two long years had elapsed sinc announced to her his intentio land on Mustapha Pasha of ason of a rescire which made the ion mother throb with materna long the fair princess learnt her constellation had her
; and to listen with smiling af ering caresses which the lad ual Harem failed not to pour o es of the Pasha's wealth, indeen mond beauty. The ranging n his house, with all the gorge
the East—the confessional es of his wardens and valar th ster-bird to the dark eyes of and ultimately the Sultan forwarde a magnificent likeness of her ctors.

Then it was that the Princess ained that the personal qualifie Pasha had been by no means exa ed until pactial chronicler ently sat for hours amid her ants, silently gazing on the po old in her hand, and marvelling ould look as fair in the eyes of ord as he already seemed in her o ed to remain in doubt, for om his good fortune had been the Imperial master, obeyed
ment permit; might look on him
an high born mistress her first cou
the heart of the Princess beat h Stamboul! The wife of the m
ment permit; might look on him
ld soon her on the streets of the c officinal brute, could only pact ony by gazing on the cold mar
the East—the confessional
e odiously displayed upon the ot eat; they came from him d ld not talk in time of love—they w ceremony, the tribute of the ther honoring bride they had ery, but they had not touched he ady lattice regarded her table rele e channel lay lushed, for the ni ed instant ripple over the bl d, the Sultana mother and the r ment were dwelling in the golde ments Heroes; and it was at thes ark eyed daughter of the Sultan ld tell on tale